the year in review

Minister Tony Blair. Iraqi leader Saddam Hussein claimed victory against what he called "the enemies of God."

Unlike during the Gulf War, the United States and Britain went it alone this time around. France, Russia, China and the Arab countries were among those who condemned the attack.

Parents and educators are understandably nervous, and many schools now maintain a zero-tolerance policy regarding violence and threats. In Oregon, an 8-year-old was suspended for singing a violent parody of a "Barney" song. And a tip led Wisconsin authorities to a group of teens who appeared to be plotting a bloodbath in revenge for being teased. They said it was a joke, but no one was laughing.

3 Hurricane

For seven days in late October and November, Hurricane Mitch pounded Honduras and Nicaragua with torrents of rain. When the skies finally cleared, large portions of the two countries lay in ruins.

The numbers were awe-inspiring: 180 mph sustained winds. Gusts estimated at more than 200 mph. The fourth strongest Caribbean hurricane of the century. Ten percent of Honduras' population of 6.1 million left homeless.

But the most dramatic number of all was one that won't ever be exactly known — roughly 10,000 people dead.

5 John Glenn

Ever since John Glenn's historic trip into space 36 years ago, he had yearned to go back. In January, NASA finally gave Glenn the go ahead, clearing him to be the first geriatric test subject in space.

On Oct. 29, the first American to orbit Earth became the oldest man to circle it. Glenn, 77, was joined by six crewmates aboard the space shuttle Discovery.

Glenn's return to space rekindled America's fascination with space travel and rivaled the media frenzy created by his voyage aboard the Mercury capsule on Feb. 20, 1962.

4 School Violence

Violence in schools is nothing new, but the headlines this year were especially heartbreaking because of the number of teachers and children killed or injured by students. Five are dead in Arkansas, fifteen in Colorado, four in Oregon and one each in Tennessee and Pennsylvania. Dozens more were hurt, scarred by bullets and fear.

The spate of violence, which began in late 1997 with shootings in Pearl, Miss., and Paducah, Ky., launched presidential initiatives and led states to consider tougher penalties for young offenders. Arkansas is considering a law that would put killers as young as 10 in prison for up to 40 years.

6 Embassy Bombing

Terrorist bombings of two U.S. embassies in east Africa and retaliatory strikes by American military forces temporarily diverted the nation's attention from the White House sex scandal in August.

The nearly simultaneous attacks against the American embassies in Kenya and Tanzania on Aug. 7 killed 224 people, including 12 Americans. More than 5,500 people were injured.

2 Iraq

After a year-long standoff with Iraq over weapons inspections, the United States and Britain in December unleashed the strongest military attack against Iraq since the 1991 Gulf War.

The four-day bombardment was called a success by President Clinton and British Prime

7 Music

Pop went the music world in 1998 as teens dominated the charts and little girls' hearts. It was also the year that the Titanic rose. The Spice Girls lost some of their snap as Ginger Spice left the quintet to take on the unlikely role of UN goodwill ambassador, and both Posh Spice and Scary Spice became pregnant.

While ardor for Hanson cooled, despite the teen trio's efforts to keep excitement high with release of music from their early years (!) called Three Car Garage, and a live album, pre-pubescent girls turned their sights and allowances to the Backstreet Boys, 'N Sync, 98 Degrees, and Next. While the groups often differed in their members' ethnic backgrounds, they all shared a similar harmony-filled singing style, pre-fab look, and nifty dance moves. Each act spent time near the top of the chart, especially Next, whose song "Too Close" spent five weeks on the top of Billboard's singles charts.

What their parents didn't know the little girls understood as they debated the cuteness factor of 'N Sync's Justin Timberlake versus the Backstreet Boys' Nick Carter. However, the Backstreet Boys were the clear winners when it came to sales. Their self-titled album sold more than eight million copies, tying it with Celine Dion's Let's Talk About Love.

8 McGwire

In 1998, two men not only surpassed Roger Maris's 1961 home-run total, they obliterated it. Mark McGwire raised the bar to an unfathomable 70, with Sammy Sosa right behind at 66. The way in which both men graciously and humbly chased the record helped finally heal the rift that opened between fans and the game as a result of the 1994 strike. This year, baseball was the national pastime again.

9 NBA Lockout

After thriving while the other major sports leagues dealt with labor strife in the past decade, the NBA finally hit a snag of its own. On July 1, the owners voted to lock out the players and reopen collective-bargaining talks, with the aim of creating a more owner-friendly revenue-sharing plan with the Players Association, as well as controlling rapidly rising salaries. The first three months of the '98-99 season were wiped out.

10 Denver Broncos

In what seemed a stunning upset, John Elway and the Denver Broncos beat the defending champion Green Bay Packers 31-24 to win Super Bowl XXXII. It ended a 15-year quest for Elway, the No. 1 overall pick of the 1983 draft, who had suffered through three of the Broncos' four previous Super Bowl defeats.

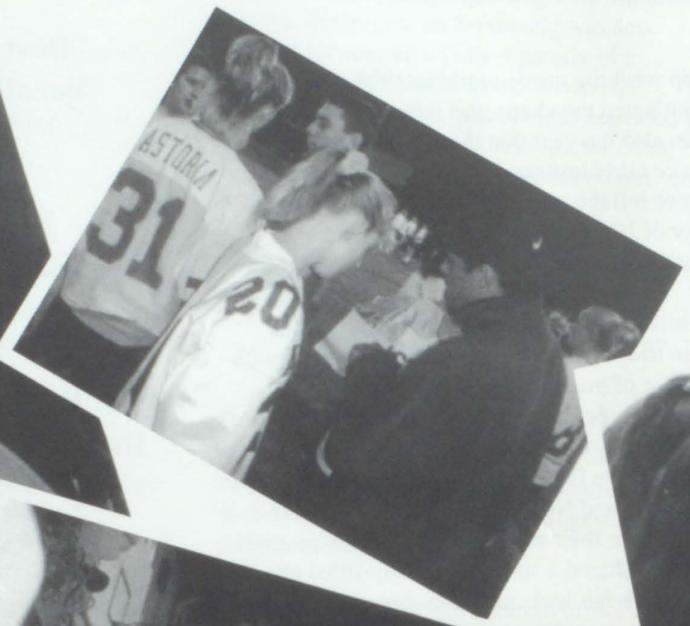

With the game tied 17-17 in the third quarter, Elway energized his teammates with an 8-yard scramble in which he took a flying leap and did a 360 in midair. "That's when I knew we were going to win," said tight end Sterling Sharpe. Running back Terrell Davis earned MVP honors with a 157-yard, three-touchdown performance, even though he missed the second quarter with a migraine. The Broncos proved they were no fluke by starting the 1998 season 13-0 and earning home-field advantage in the AFC playoffs.

11 New York Yankees

It started out with a whimper, but ended with a bang. The New York Yankees lost their first three games, causing many to wonder if they had foolishly bought themselves trouble with their bloated payroll (second-highest in the major leagues at $63,640,567). But New York went 17-3 the rest of April and almost never let up, finishing with an American League-record 114 regular-season wins.

David Wells pitched the majors' 13th perfect game, on May 17 against Minnesota. Orlando "El Duque" Hernandez's high-stepped into the starting rotation after his dramatic defection from Cuba. And Scott Brosius, a journeyman third baseman, made like Graig Nettles with an MVP performance in a World Series sweep of the San Diego Padres, as the Yankees wound up with an astonishing 125-50 record.

Stylin' Mr. Landwehr shows off his true self.

Standing in front of the bonfire to stay warm, Crystal Jenson, and Vince Roman stay close.

The bonfire rages after the powderpuff game.

After submitting the best design, Jake Soller painted it on the pumpkin, and even got to take it home.

Astoria Homecoming 1998 was the most spirited homecoming Astoria has had in a long time. Each day, throughout the week, had a theme that the students and faculty were supposed to dress for: class unity day, pajama day, decades day, and spirit day! The Olympics were filled with messy, fun, and new games. The Lip Sync was a new activity that started this year. Each class had about four students (besides the juniors) who had to go up on stage in the auditorium and lip sync and dance to random songs being played. Meatball was a blast with the junior class taking it all. Powderpuff was fun, even though there wasn't any mud this year. Afterward, there was a bonfire across the street where each class threw in their seagull that they constructed. Friday night was great when we flat out murdered Seaside 50-00. Can you say blown away? Finally, on Saturday, was the annual Homecoming dance. The theme of the dance was "A Night on the Town" and the song was Aerosmith's "I Don't Want to Miss a Thing." Everyone danced the night away. Hopefully next year will be as fun and exciting as Homecoming 1998.

Outdoor School

Outdoor School

Outdoor school, which is held at camp Kiwanilong, gives juniors and seniors a chance to be camp counselors for fourth and fifth graders from the local grade schools.

The counselors spent two nights in a cabin with six campers and were in charge of them throughout the three days. They joined them at dinner, took them canoeing, on nature trails, and to their assigned classes like arts and crafts, water science, bird watching, and various nature hikes. The students weren't the only ones who learned the skills; the counselors participated also.

The last day was a long one because of the continuous rain. The camp was canceled because of the rain so it was a mad dash to get all of the wet gear packed and to send the drenched kids home. Though it rained most of the time, the counselors had a blast—from seeing Cle'net and Chris's campers march around the camp under "military order," to pizza parties and late nights. One thing is for sure, this was an experience the counselors will never forget.

The counselors would like to thank all of the adults who helped to make this year's outdoor school a memorable experience. Thank you for your time and help.

After the first day, Rachel Van Dusen and Mike Ackerman take control of their students by means of a headlock.

Trying to escape the rain, Sia Phillipakis and a student take cover under an umbrella.

Providing the entertainment, Cle'net Corderman plays the guitar. Throughout the entire time Cle'net could put a smile on everyone's face.

Like old times, Hanna Long, Amie Johnson, Katie Radu, and Christin Pass get yet another picture together.

Blood Drive

In the AHS library, Roy Jackson donates his blood for the Blood Drive.

To coin the phrase "volunteers make a difference," Lynne Houghtaling, her daughter Lindsey, Emily Tisch, Hanna Long, and David Rothberg help out at the Blood Drive.

This year's annual blood drive was held on February 25, 1999. The Blood Drive was put on by the Astoria High School leadership class. This year's Blood drive was a huge success! A large number of people showed up, but not everyone donated. The age requirement to participate was 17. The goal for the Blood Drive was 80 pints, but 76 pints were collected. Thank you everyone who made this year's Blood Drive a Success!

Time must be passing slowly as Mike Kustura gives a questioning look to the technician.

Monkey hear, monkey see, monkey do...Emily Tisch gives Steve Wood a piece of advice to becoming an enthusiastic Blood Drop, alongside Hanna Long.

Queen Katie Leback and King Roy Jackson reign over A Night to Remember

One night a year high school students all around the country put on the ritz for the sweet party called the Prom. This year, like every other year, AHS students decked out in tuxedos and fashionable formal gowns, didn't miss a beat. Because of conflicts with schedules for the regular venues, the dance was held at the well decorated middle school. In the end it was the fun and excitement of looking cool that made it a special night to remember.

Having their picture taken to remember those special times, Aaron Demasse, Laura Parker, and Rob Landwehr wait for photographer Lisa Lamping to snap the shutter.

Catching their breath or waiting for the bus?

Swaying to the slow sounds of Garth Brooks and getting a chance to wrap up close in the arms of their dates, these were truly some special times.

Senior Class President Chris Holmstedt read a humorous biography about each prince and princess as they were presented to the crowd.

Winter Ball

For the first time ever Astoria High School hosted a Winterball Dance at the Masonic Temple. Michael Kustura was the very first snow king, and the snow queen was Melody Schauermann. Along with the king and queen were staff and student princes and princesses. The staff prince was Gus Fennerty and princess was Senora Nieves. The student prince and princess were Dave Servino and Jennifer Doner. This year's turnout could have been a little better, but hopefully it will grow as the years go by.

Astoria High School offers a program to those kids who are physically and, or mentally disabled called Life Skills. The main purposes of the program are to teach social skills, vocational skills, and independent living skills. Students learn these important skills by going out into the community to do odd jobs, and also by going out to the classrooms around the school with peer tutors and participate in the classes. The kids also learn to cook, clean, and the essentials of self-care.

1998 AHS Cross Country:

Some may call it crazy and others may say they're stupid, but the AHS Cross Country team will run long distances no matter what the conditions. And this season they did a fine good job at it. The varsity boys not only won Districts, but they came in 6th place at the state meet. This year was also the first time in three years the AHS has had a complete girls team.

This season's varsity boys team had a wonderful season, with many memorable highlights. One highlight was winning one of the most competitive meets in Washington, the Hoquium Invitational. Not long after winning at Hoquium, the team went on to become District Champions, having five of our runners placing in the top 15, forming the league team. Individually at Districts James Eubank was 1st (District Champ), Andrew Fick was 3rd, Aaron Eckert was 4th, Jasper Deveraux was 5th, and Phil Adams was 10th. With a first place finish, the varsity boys earned a trip to state. This was yet another highlight of the season with James Eubank placing 4th to win 1st Team All State honors.

Even though there was a girls team they were separated into different races during most meets, therefore they weren't able to come up with many team scores. Jennifer Eubank, Andria Hoffman, Lacey Hoyer, Gina Neal, and Tosha Vetricek formed this wonderful team. "It was nice watching them develop during the season into a group that shows real promise for next year." said Coach Dominy of the new team.

Not only was there a varsity boys team, but also there was a JV team. Art Amela, Vince Amela, Nick Boutin, Colin Eckert, and Joe Mansfield were the members of the 1998 JV competitors. This group shows real competitive promise for next season.

Cross Country

The varsity boys: James West, Phil Adams, James Eubank, Aaron Eckert, and Andrew Fick have a great start at districts, leading them to District Championship.

After running their best, the varsity boys: Jasper, Andrew, Chuck, James W., James E., Phil, and Aaron are presented as the District Champions.

Varsity Boys Questioned:

What was the proudest moment of the season?

" My proudest moment was coming back from summer vacation and seeing that we had a great team."
-Jasper Deveraux

" Uh, I really don't think I have one."

(Even though he was 1st at districts and placed fourth at state.) - James Eubank

During the Hoquium Invitational Chuck Adams and James West run hard to go on and earn a 1st place team finish.

" The best moment probably is getting to run around and cause trouble with the "boys" a.k.a James, Phil, Jasper, and Aaron."

-Andrew Fick

Just rounding the top of a steep hill on our home course during a dual meet, Jasper Deveraux goes on to finish first.

After running hard and finishing an awesome 10th place at Districts, Phil Adams takes a deep breath.

"My proudest moment was doing better in state this year compared to last year." -Aaron Eckert

Cross Country

Girls Questioned:

What keeps you running when you are tired and in oxygen debt?

"Pride and power. I want people to fear me when I run. I want to be remembered when I'm gone."

-Andria Hoffman

Leading the pack at the Hoquiam Invitational, Lacey Hoyer, goes on to an awesome 15th place finish.

At a dual meet in St. Helens Andria Hoffman runs a great first mile where she passed many top competitors.

Cross Country

At the Hoquium Invitational, Vince Amela and Nick Boutin finish their race with a fast sprint.

The Junior Varsity boys: Joe Mansfield, Nick Boutin, and Colin Eckert embark on their last meet of the season, Districts.

At the District meet Colin Eckert looks ahead for a pass that lead him to a great finish.

Nearing the end of a dual meet at our home course, Vince Amela, Art Amela, and Joe Mansfield pass an opponent from Seaside.

Before a home dual meet Art Amela, Nick Boutin, and Vince Amela listen to instructions and pose for a picture.

On the last leg of the Hoquium Invitational, Joe Mansfield starts his sprint, which earned him 15th place.

JV Boys Questioned: Why did you go out for Cross Country?

"So I will be famous and all the chicks will flock to me."

-Joe Mansfield

"The enjoyment of running inspired me to join Cross Country."

-Nick Boutin

"I joined so I would lose weight and gain stamina."

-Vince Amela

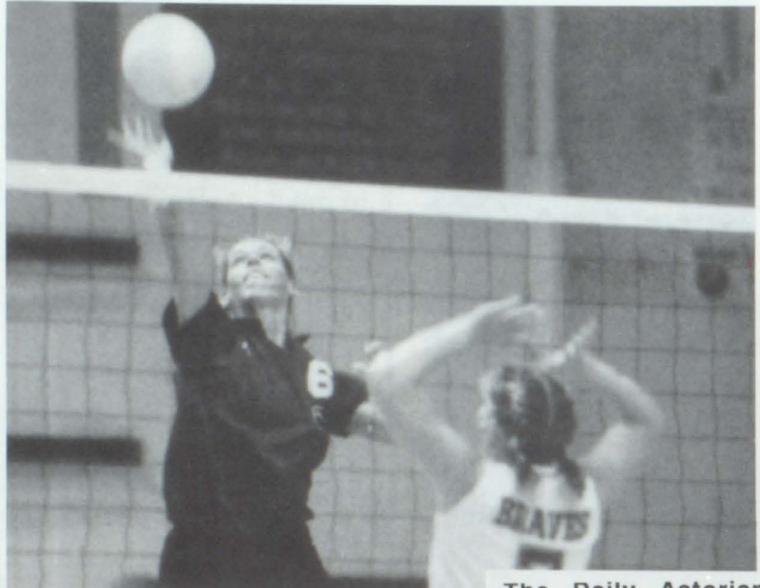

"I joined Cross Country because I wanted to do something other than school this year."

-Colin Eckert

Stomping to Victory

What brought hundreds of fans to their feet; what could make them scream so loud you can hear them for miles, and what on earth would make them want to drive for miles and miles through all weather conditions? The answer is that they wanted to watch one really talented team, this year's Astoria High School varsity football team. With a league record of 4-2, they were on to state, the first time in four years. Their overall record was 6-5, a great finish to an awesome season.

The start of the season was rough, with two non-league losses, bringing the Fishermen's spirits down. But when the league season opened against Clatskanine, a crushing 40-18 win was accomplished, and things were looking brighter. Then, for the third year in a row, the Fishermen won the "Clatsop Clash," defeating the Seaside Seagulls 50-0. Even though league play was ended with a disappointing loss to St. Helens, Astoria went on to state.

The best part of the season was not only winning, but also the great group of guys who formed this nearly unstoppable team. As Coach Andrea said, "It was such a wonderful group to coach with, I just hate to see them broken up."

The seniors of the team were good leaders and went through a lot together. Coach Andrea was happy about their trip to state because it was an honorable reward for all their hard work. "I don't know if I've ever had another team with guys who just enjoyed playing together," said Coach Andrea of these talented seniors. Another reward for the team was the honor of having seven players earn All Cowapa League status, as well as four earning All State titles.

The whole team was sad to see the season come to an end, but with all their accomplishments one can only be proud. "The season was just so much fun none of us wanted to see it end. It wasn't about winning or losing, it was about learning together and having some fun," Coach Andrea said of the 1998 season.

Baker City 47-6 won

Defense members, Rob Landwehr, Tyler Olson, and David Servino, show there true skills against Baker City allowing only 6 points.

Breaking free from a Baker City defender, Joel Jenson runs for yet another touchdown, one of his five for the season.

Hidden Valley 35-41 lost

In for most of the game, Chris Wait, Josh Ness, Ronnie Kelley, and Mike Ackerman, try their hardest to stop Hidden Valley's offense.

After the sad loss in Hidden Valley the team sadly bows their heads in realization that this awesome season is over.

Finishing Strong: a trip to state

The 1998 season proved to be memorable with a well deserved trip to the state playoffs. A 2nd place finish in the Cowapa League earned Astoria a home field advantage in their first playoff game. In this game they faced the Baker City Bulldogs. To this Eastern Oregon located team, Astoria "sunshine" was not easy to adapt to. They slipped and slid their way through the game unable to stop our fast and experienced offense. And when the Astoria defense took over, they put a stop to the uncoordinated Baker City offense. Needless to say the Astoria Fishermen blew away the visiting Baker City Bulldogs with a score of 47-6. In 1993 the Fishermen had also faced Baker City in the first round of the state playoffs and sadly lost, 28-6. Coach Andrea said, "It was fun to beat Baker City this time. It was a great game for the community."

The second game of the state playoffs was played seven hours away in Hidden Valley. The game was frustrating all the way through. Every time the Fishermen got within six points the Hidden Valley Mustangs would pull out another touchdown. The freezing cold temperatures and pelting rain could have been a factor, but Coach Andrea felt they had played in those conditions before and the key factor was outside emotion. "We made a few key mistakes, like rushing the kicker, which gave them the ball back. This had a big effect on us emotionally because we had the ball, but were forced to give it back." Although the final score was a disappointing 35-41 loss, Astoria was never forced to punt the ball away, whereas the Mustangs were forced to punt over five times, proving our determination and skill.

"I learned a lot and had a lot of fun."
-Hanna Long

Record wise, the 1998 soccer season wasn't quite as impressive as 1997's. Nonetheless, the players said they had a great time. A grand total of three games were won; however, the team spirit stayed fresh and alive. There were many ups and downs during the season and a lot of experience gained. Everyone came out of this fall season with new skills and new friends. Some players were a little more physical than others, but the team ended up with less yellow cards than last year.

Even though no new plaque decorates the hallway, this was a season to remember.

"One of our biggest highlights was holding Catlin Gable to 1 goal advantage in the first half"
-joAnn Gaynor

Even though we didn't make it as far this year, everyone came out with a better understanding of soccer.
-Jenny Stanton

Senior, Jammie Foley was voted as the most inspirational player by her fellow teammates. This is easy to understand because of her ability to add humor to the team.

*"We learned a lot from this season."
-John Gaffney*

The 1998 Boys soccer season was a huge learning experience for all of those involved. The team was said to have lacked experience since there were only two seniors on the team. Most of the team had little or no varsity experience. However this made them want to play even harder. The team is already thinking about next season and planning to work hard to earn the title of the best in the league. The 1998 season gave more than just experience to the team, it helped them be better sportsmen, acquire new friendships, and gain memories that would last a lifetime.

"It was nice to come up and play varsity. I hope we grow from this season."

Swimming

*A new pool, new team,
and new records.*

This year's swim season started off with a big splash. Since the swim programs beginnings over a decade ago, the team always had to travel to Seaside for practices and meets.

With most all the community supporting the new aquatic center, the old fairgrounds were torn down to make room for the well used and long overdue swim center. Despite the nearly perfect venue, word soon paddled around the district that the water was cold and the swimmers from Astoria were hot. This was extremely prevalent when Bill Gunderson set the record for the 500 free.

Throughout the entire season, including districts, Astoria's Boys Swim team remained undefeated, taking the district championship and enjoying every bit of hard earned glory. It was a perfect way to break in the new facilities.

Unfortunately most of the boys on the team this year were seniors. Led by the sleek strokes of Jacob Rummell, Bill Gunderson, and Mike Lang the team was on a mission that would make them impossible to stop. The girls' swim team didn't hold as great of a win-loss record; but they held a 3.7 GPA. Showing that athletes aren't all muscle.

A driving force for the team that was unseen by the eye, but known by the heart, was Andrew Nygaard. Andrew, who would have been a Freshman on the team, was never able to swim at the high school level but he was still an inspirational part of our team. A commemorative invitational meet was held in his honor, and at no other meet was such determination shown. This swim season was dedicated, with love, to Andrew Nygaard (1982-1998).

Grasping A Victory

Astoria High School's 98/99 wrestling season began with great expectations. Only two seniors had graduated from last year's much improved squad of matmen. A promising group of freshman, along with new coach Harry Pike, joined the returning grapplers. The team expected to be strong in the upper weight classes, especially Sophomore Josh Ness at 189, Junior Noah Gilbert at 215 and Matt Van Osdahl at 275 respectively. Solidifying the middle weights would be returners Mark Welty , Steve Bowers and Chris Opshl. They would be joined by newcomers Amor Estadian, Oscar Nelson and Adam Cave. Two freshman competed at the 103 spot, Ryan Opshl and Danny Parker. The team was missing competitors at the middle wieght range (119-140 lbs.), which resulted in a string of dual meet defeats.

The season ended, however on a promise for next year. Newcomers Pat Reed, David Bales and Willie Koskela joined the "veterans" Josh Ness, and Matt Van Osdahl and Noah Gilbert in placing at the districts meet.

Fall Rally Squad

Through all types of weather during the football season, the Fall Rally Squad was able to keep their enthusiasm and school spirit high. They cheered on our boys through wins and losses. The Fall Rally Squad was made up of eight dedicated girls with great attitudes. According to Coach Lee Heater, "Everybody was great, especially the student body; they helped make our job a lot easier!"

The season was filled with many funny and memorable moments. From bus trips to Taco Bell stops, this season is one that none of them will soon forget!

Winter Rally Squad

The Winter Rally Squad started out unsure of the season with no returning seniors, varying levels of experience, and a new coach, Debbie Christensen. But that didn't stop the squad from having a fun and successful season. They began their season at the Vince Dulcich Tournament and finished with the memorable Girls' State Basketball experience. From the Banks boys who led the way to the North Plains McDonald's, to the little "yellow hot rod" (the minibus to State), the season contained many memories which will last for a long time to come.

For her first time as a cheerleader, Freshman Bree Bish does a great GO-FIGHT-WIN

The 1998 - 99 Varsity season was one to remember. It was a season not only full of excitement, but of emotion. It provided a level of girls basketball that Astoria hasn't seen in a while. With a record of 22-3, the team was undefeated in league. This has happened only twice in Coach Davis's history. He was very proud. They entered each game as it was the most important of the year. This team was known for their defense, hustle, and third-quarter come backs. One of the many highlights of the season was beating Seaside three times. The team's goal was similar to last years (on to state), except to come home with a trophy. They entered the state tournament with one loss, rated second in the state, and left Corvallis in two games. It was a disappointment, but a learning experience. They were very strong in many areas. They provided four all-league players (Rieanna Gildner, Amie Johnson, Andrea Kustura, and Christin Pass) and one on the honorable mention list (Hanna Long), all five starters. This was a season that will not be forgotten.

A powerful force on offense, Rieanna Gildner aims the ball towards the basket.

Congratulating each other, Jammie Foley and Leah Schauermann celebrate with a rewarding high-five.

1999 Girl's State Tournament

This year's state tournament was held at Oregon State University in Corvallis, Oregon. It began on March 9 and continued through the 13th. The Lady Fishermen earned the number one spot in the Cowapa league so they had a one-way ticket to the tournament. Entering the tournament, ranked second in the state, the Fishermen faced the Pleasant Hill Billies. The Lady Fishermen were in the tournament last year, giving them all but two players with the state tournament experience. The first game concluded in the Fishermen's second loss of the season, 34-45. This loss bumped the Fishermen to the loser's bracket where they would face Central. In pre-season play the Fishermen faced the Panthers with a 46-40 victory. This game was played with the intensity that the Fishermen had shown throughout the whole year. Being a double elimination tournament, the Fishermen ended their season short with a 50-56 loss to the Panthers. Although the Fishermen did not come home with a trophy like they had hoped they did show their capabilities during league play. With five seniors graduating, the Lady Fishermen are returning with old and new players. Most have the experience of two state tournaments. Although the season did not end as they hoped, the girls plan to come back just as strong, with the experience, next year.

Pushing the ball up the court, Hanna Long completes another assist.

This is just a small example of the bond that this team shared throughout the year. After a three-point basket made by Amie Johnson, Christin Pass gives her a well deserved high-five.

Varsity Baseball

This year the Varsity Boys Baseball team had a very successful season. With a very young team, they made it to the state playoffs for the first time in ten years. The guys lost their first game at state, 12-2.

"The seniors should be proud of their accomplishments. They laid out the ground work for the sophomores." stated coach Chris Hunt.

The guys learned a lot and can build from this season. Hopefully next year will be as good as this.

Teeing off, Nathan Pinkstaff rips the ball to the outfield.

Making a little contact on a picture perfect swing, sophomore Chris Deford drives the ball for a basehit.

Putting on his game face, Ronnie Kelly awaits another homerun hit.

Trotting into home, Nathan Connaway scores another run for the Fishermen.

Dressed in her best, Nicole Bingham goes out to play.

Waiting for her turn up to bat, Cassie Takko watches the game.

The J.V. softball team was full of fun this year. The girls enjoyed the competition that was provided in the Cowapa league. The only setback was with the varsity team. When the team was short of players they would pull up Nathalie Matson, the main pitcher, and Cassie Takko, the slugger. This definitely hurt the team, but with a few adjustments, the team was back on track.

With several close games, the team proved to be a come-back team. Their coach, Shanna Davis, was a great contribution to the program this year. The team will be a great addition to the varsity program next year, everyone is looking forward to them.

This years varsity season was full of hope, high expectations, and promise, but it did not work that way. The girls entered the season ready for battle, but the first few games got the best of them. Within two pitches, there were two devastating injuries. Sia Phillipakis and JoyAnn Fell were out with knee injuries, then a few games later Tracy Forrester dislocated her middle finger. Without these three key seniors, the team was hurting.

Sia was one of the foundations players, she could play just about anywhere and do an excellent job. JoyAnn was the team's catcher, without her behind the plate the whole team suffered. Then Tracy played third base where her presence was missed until she healed. Slowly Sia healed and returned to the game earning a spot on the Cowapa league team, but JoyAnn never put the gear back on. She went through corrective knee surgery. She will be out of sports for about six months. Although JoyAnn never played her presence was recognized. She received the Honorable Mention award for the Cowapa League.

The rest of the team battled to the end. Sarah Walker was a great force for the team in left field. She is a very quick girl who can get to just about everything. Jammie Foley gave our outfield the direction. She was a first year varsity player that came in just like she had been there for several years. Hanna Long, Kimberly Wirth, and Michelle Walker completed our outfield. They rotated in the right field position. Kaylene

Nelson provided a wall at first base. She did an excellent job at knocking down everything. Amie Johnson was a reliable source as usual. She played second base for the fishermen. Her bunting skill were ones to remember. Miranda Schmitz was a part-time player who added nicely to the group. Her attitude was always positive and she was willing to do anything. This year's pitching position was split between Nathalie Matson and Christin Pass. When Nathalie pitched, Christin caught. They worked well as a combination, but Joy was missed.

With all the disappointments, the team was able to pull through and complete the season. Adjustment is part of the game, it is what makes a team better. Nothing comes easy anymore.

1999 Boys and Girls Track: A Total Success

What could make a coach of more than 30 years proud, the 1999 track team. This season was full of success with numerous records broken. These included all 71 members finishing with a new record, 15 members qualifying for state, and 25 lifetime bests at districts. Other individual records include the boys 400 meter relay team, Ben Thompson, Nolan Johnson, Justin Kalar, and Matt Smith, ran a record breaking time of 44.2 seconds. The girls 400 meter time was broken by Lindsey Houghtaling with a time of 59.6 seconds. Also a new girl's point scoring record was set by Kia McClain.

Other successes included two key wins in the relay meets. They won the League Relays which is the first time ever for Astoria High School. As well as the team winning the Seaside relays, also the first time ever for AHS.

The state track meet is where the best of the best athletes out of Oregon compete. This year a record breaking 15 members from AHS went to Hayward Field in Eugene to participate. The boys 400 meter relay team placed 10th with a time of 45.21 seconds. Matt Smith earned a medal with a fourth place finish in the intermediate hurdles at 41.1 seconds. James Eubank placed sixth in the 800 meters at 2:01 and also earned a medal placing second in the 1500 meters at 4:06.3. In the throwing events Rob Landwehr competed in the shot put with a throw of 45' 3", David Servino placed 10th in the javelin with a throw of 166'2", and David Filori competed in both the shot put at 45'3" and threw 126'1" in the discus placing 10th.

The Astoria ladies also had a successful time at state with six girls qualifying for competition. The girls mile relay team placed first at the district meet becoming district champions. Then at state Tabbitha Koskela, Leah Schauermann, Melody Schauermann, and Lindsey Houghtaling ran a time of 4:20 which did not quite get them into the final round, but what a great season. In the 400 meters Lindsey Houghtaling placed sixth in 61.1 seconds and also placed fifth in the 200 meters in 26.4 seconds. Michele Long threw the javelin 110' and also the discus 113'3" earning the fifth place seat. Kia McClain threw the shot put 33'7.5" and placed sixth in the discus at 112'7".

"What an exciting season with all the new records and firsts. This has been a great group to work with and I wish them the very best in their futures" Coach Dominey said of the 1999 season.

As Willie Koskela and Joe Filori look on in wonder as Steve Ahlers throws the shot put for another personal record.

Staring down the track, Andrew Fick readies himself for the 3000 meter race at districts where he placed fourth.

Junior James Rude takes a leap in the long jump to set a new personal record of 18' in a Cowapa dual meet in Banks.

Coach Dominey

Our great Astoria High School has been around since the 1870's and has seen many track and field teams. Coach Dominey hasn't been at AHS for all those years, but he has had an extraordinarily impressive coaching career. Coaching both track and cross country for the last 31 years he has forever made an impact on these fields of competition.

Individually he has been named coach of the year three times, was twice nominated national coach of the year, and was once named district coach of the year out of Oregon, Wyoming, Idaho, Montana, Washington, and Alaska.

The track and field teams under Coach Dominey's guidance at Astoria High School have had four district champions, the only in the school's history. He has also coached one fourth place state team, one third place team, one second place team, and has had one state championship, these all are also the only in the school's history. Coach Dominey has had 22 individual state champions and of these champions four have set state records. These include the boy's and girl's 800 meters, girl's 400 meter relay, and the boy's intermediate hurdles. He has coached two high school All Americans, Kam Johnson and Doug Bowlsby, and one high school national champion, Kam Johnson.

Even if he hadn't earned all these championships, Coach Dominey would still be remembered as one of the greatest coaches in Astoria High School's history. His love and dedication to the kids he has coached can never be surpassed, his legacy will forever be remembered in the hearts of those he has coached.

Jumping the final high hurdle, Katie Johnson finishes sixth with a time of 18.06 seconds at the Lower Columbia Invitational.

Taking the baton from Tabbitha Koskela, Laura Johnson continues on for the 4X100 relay team in Banks where they came in first in 53.01 sec.

Vaulting as any vaulter should,
Lacey B Hoyer clears the cross bar with a new personal record of 7'6."

Rob Landwehr:
"It's pretty random. My senior paper was on airplanes and my project was the 8th grade track meet!"

Mark Bowers:
It was long, expensive, and the most stressful thing I have ever done."

Any famous last words?

Audrey "little" Gardugue:
"There's no place like home--but--being away is the 2nd best thing."

Olin Van Winkle:
"High school; you never know what you have, until you leave it."

Rob Takko:
"All I have to say about being a Senior is do NOT procrastinate on anything."

Ryan Hanson:
"I don't get it."

Laura Parker:
"We're gonna party like it's 1999!"

What teacher will you miss the most? Why?

Matt Gustafson:
"Seeborg cause he is the bomb."

Andrea Mazzarella:
"Gus F., Seeborg, & Sartwell because they care about the students."

Mike Ackerman:
"Mr. Patterson, he challenged me to think."

Jason Cook:
"Mr. Dessen, was the coolest english teacher I ever met."

Cle'net Corderman:
"Mrs. Hale and Gus, because they kept me out of trouble."

Tory Sage:
"Mrs. Patterson, I miss her already."

Brian Alsbury:
"Mr. Ski, he still thinks my name is Mikey."

Celebrate

Rachel Darcy:
"Class of 99' are always right."

Sammi Chen:
"Be happy who you are and what you can do."

Rachael Eaton:
"Whatever it is, do it, you only live once."

Jeremy Williamson:
"Got Milk?"

Katie Steinback:
"Mrs. O'Bryan because she has done so much for me these past four years."

Fish-a-thon Reels in Big Catches

Hatchery students share their talents with those less fortunate.

You can pretty much count on some fish stories from the rookie fishermen that will last a lifetime. The one that was bigger than the frying pan or the one that nearly pulled the pole into the water. Those were some big fish that were pulled out of the AHS hatchery this year, nearly bigger than life itself.

For almost 20 years the hatchery program has been doing something special; they have been offering an opportunity for handicapped kids to catch a slippery trout. Sponsored by the students in the class, the event always is sure to bring a smile to the face of one of the special needs students that is catching a fish for the first time. Kids in the class were responsible for raising the fish that were caught in the fish-a-thon.

"We've been doing this a long time," commented aquaculture teacher Gus Fennerty, "it's been fun and always a good experience for everyone."

A Field Trip Worth Remembering

This was not your typical fieldtrip. For a couple of weeks in the springtime, a small group of Astoria students and one Seaside student, packed their bags and boarded a jet headed for Europe. Making the trip with chaperones Mr. Landwehr, Mr. Foster, and Mrs. Hawley, were students John Osborne, Mike Lang, Scott Elder, Patrick White, Jacob Rummell, Rob Landwehr, Liz Alfaro, Katie Megathon, Rachel Van Dusen, and Kelsay Hertig. Loaded down with just enough baggage to make it through the week without desperately needing a laundromat, these jetsetters enjoyed a trip that they will always remember.

First stop on the tour was in Waldorf, Germany where the young ambassadors were warmly welcomed and treated to the finest that the city has to offer. After six nights, they were off to Paris where they were able to experience the best of French culture, visit museums, shop, and enjoy the nightlife. Their stay in Paris was for five short nights. Last on the itinerary was a stop in England for three nights where the weary travelers dabbled with the language and enjoyed merry old England.

Leadership

Leadership

This year, we had a new class named Leadership, which was taught by Mr. Goin. The Leadership class was made up of ASB Officers, Class Officers, and 10 other individuals who wanted to be involved with student government. The class took on many projects and activities that improved our school and student involvement. The students worked together, brain stormed new ideas, and some attended camps and workshops on leadership. More Homecoming activities, assemblies, and a new Winterball dance were a few of the many accomplishments attained by this class. They also did community projects outside of the classroom. They held a can food drive, wrapped presents for the needy, and helped out the Parks and Recreation with the annual Breakfast with Santa and Easter Egg Hunt. Next year, there are going to be even more changes that will continue the on going process of a successful school year.

Espresso State University

Espresso For All

For the past three years the Espresso State University (ESU) espresso cart has been serving delicious drinks every morning before school. The students involved in the program have learned valuable business and food serving skills.

The instructor and organizer of this program is Spence Barker, who three years ago applied for grants to begin the program. Money was given through a grant by the Vocational Rehabilitation. The Espresso State University is run by the Clatsop Youth Transition Program (YTP), which was set up to enhance the education and lives of young people in Clatsop County. Nearly 80 AHS students have completed the program that requires all that are involved to get their food handlers' license and must also complete various exams throughout the year. This program has been adopted by 13 other high schools in Washington and Oregon after they saw the success of the AHS program.

Not only does this program serve drinks at school, but also out in the community. During the last year six students who operate the coffee cart teamed up with Victory Over Child Abuse (VOCA) volunteers in operating the coffee cart at various community events. These events included the Astoria Regatta, the Astoria Fourth of July Celebration, the Clatsop County Fair, and the Hood to Coast Run, where they worked together to raise money for Healing Circle and the VOCA Camps. These four events raised $2000 to be split evenly between ESU and Healing Circle. As a result ESU president Elisha Thompson presented the Healing Circle with a check for $1000 for the sponsorship of the 1999 VOCA Camps.

President Elisha Thompson and Spence Barker present the VOCA board of directors, Margaret Frimoth, a donation of $1000 for VOCA Camps.

Exchange students find Astoria, "just a little different."

Audrey "Little" Garduque- Davao City, Philippines

Little, as she has been affectionately termed, came to Astoria from Davao City in the Philippines. She stayed with three different families while she was here: Ayot family, Samuelson family, Hale family. Little said that she had so many great memories she couldn't pick out a favorite. She said what was different at her school was they turn the fans on instead of the heaters. Her favorite class was tutorial. The hardest thing about speaking English was thinking in Filipino and translating it into English. The things she will miss most are the friends she made and the cute guys she met. When Little returns home she will go to college and enter the field of medicine.

Rochan Rosa- Vitoria, Brazil

Rochana has stayed her entire trip with the Lindstrom family. Her home town is Vitoria, Brazil. She said, "I had lots of memories here, I can't tell my favorite one." The difference between our high school and her Brazil high school is the schedules and the classes here are longer. Rochana loved all of her classes and couldn't pick out her favorite. The hardest thing about speaking English she found was the speed at which everyone spoke when she first got here. She doesn't know what she will miss most about America until she's left; and when she does leave she intends to be a dentist.

To get to Astoria, turn left at Bangkok

Yoko Itonaga- Sasebo City, Nagasaki, Japan

Yoko flew in from Sasebo-city, Nagasaki, Japan. She has spent her entire exchange with the Rudes. When asked about her favorite memory from here she smiled and said, "I can't decide." The difference between her school in Japan and the school here?...Everything. her favorite class was tutorial. What she found most difficult about speaking English was, actually having to speak English, and pronounce our words correctly. Friends and food are what she will miss most when she leaves. When Yoko Returns home she is not sure what she wants to be.

Memories from all around the world

Wetlands Project Gives Students Hands-on Training

The Astoria Field Studies Program is designed around the idea that students learn better when they experience the processes of science in the real world. Through field experiences in watershed and wetland studies, students gain an appreciation for the techniques and dedication necessary to genuinely understand the world around them.

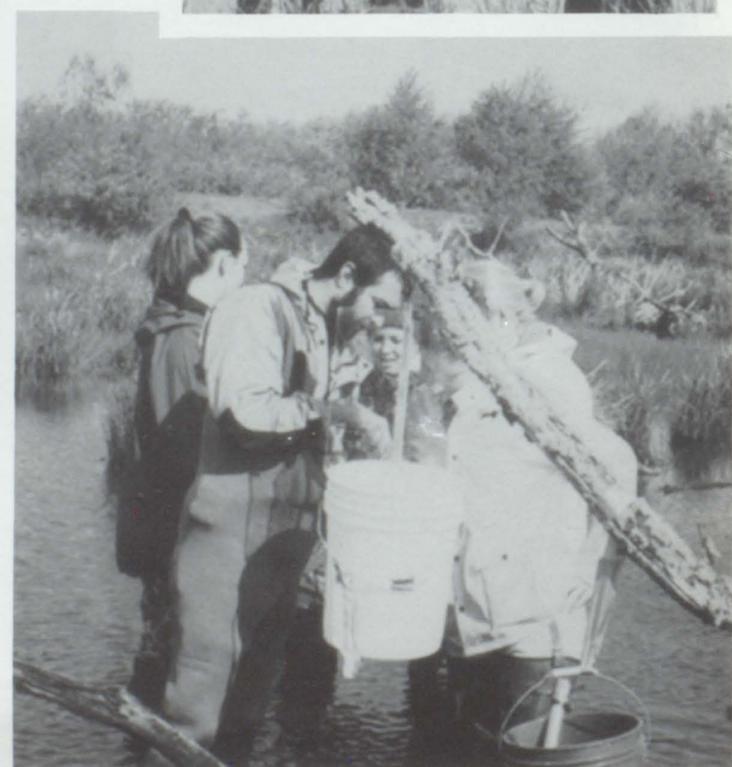

Projects in cooperation with local industries and agencies, like the Nestbox Program, provide an opportunity for students test the ideas of science while participating efforts to balance access natural resources with the desire minimize impacts to the environment.

The Field Studies program works to establish partnerships with local businesses and industries, with State Agencies like the Oregon State Department of Forestry, Oregon State Parks and Oregon Department of Fish and Wildlife, with Federal Agencies like the National Marine Fisheries, the U.S. Biological Survey, the Sister Shorebird Project and the National Parks Department, with other educational establishments like the Coast Studies and Technology Center, Clatsop Community College and Portland State University and with private organizations like the Community Information Center, CREST and the North Coast Land Conservancy.

-Mr. Patterson

Scanning Astoria History for a New Purpose

Every "B" day throughout the Fall and Winter months, a handful of AHS students invaded the local museum. Armed with computers and scanners, the talented group were working on creating a multimedia program entitled "In Their Footsteps."

The 20 minute program which will be used as a part of the Columbia River Maritime Museum programs, is a short look at the history of Astoria and takes the audience from the days of the early explorers through present day. Topics of focus for this spectacular show include such as shipwrecks, fishing, logging, shangheeing, the great fire of 1922, World War II, and Astoria today.

In a whirlwind of pictures and sounds it is easy to get a snapshot of where Astoria has come from and to where it might be heading in the future.

The AHS students that took part in the project were Chris Holmstedt, Ryan Holmstedt, Sasha Rappaport, Kirk Wintermute, Jenny Stanton, Amor Estandian, Willis Van Dusen, and Faith Harris. District technology director Mr. Holmstedt was the advisor for the class.

With the purpose of opening opportunities for students to get hands on experience in the community, the program reached all of its goals. "We wanted to be able to not only present the history of Astoria in a new way, we wanted the students to be able to learn about what a few of the new technologies can do," commented Mr. Holmstedt.

The young multimedia creators scanned nearly 800 photos from the museums, conducted oral interviews, captured sounds from the area, and wrote the script. Volunteering to be the narrator for the film, Grant McOmie, outdoor reporter for television station KATU, added a professional touch to the successful project.

As a part of his senior project, Chris Holmstedt wrote the music for the program and recorded it using a keyboard and computer.

You can most likely see the program when you visit the Maritime Museum. It will also be used in the schools as a way of introducing local history to district students.

Talent Show

Freshmen Kelsey Propst, Kristin Hoagland, and Bree Bish express their feelings about "No Scrubs."

While reading the list of events, Danny Beyer, tries to be funny as the MC.

Stuffing peas up her nose, Addie Bales and her brother, David Bales, perform for the audience.

Singing to Shania Twain's, "From this Moment," Jennifer Lacey and Lori Christiansen sing their hearts out.

The 99 Talent Show at ATHS was very successful. There were many exciting, and entertaining talents which included the songs: "From This Moment", "Imagine", "No Scrubs", "Don't Be Stupid", and many more. The afternoon mostly was filled with lip syncing, while there was also spanish singing, a clarinet solo, and a comedy bit. This was a nice event that was enjoyed more than going to tutorial.

Talent Show

Follow Tabbitha Brown's advice,
"Don't be Stupid"

Performing for the audience, Michelle Walker, Aundie Kustura, Cassie Takko, Melissa Muller, and Miranda Schmitz, "lipsync" to "N sync"

Wild ones, Norman Wentworth and Frankie Sunderland, do their awesome impression of Milli Vanilli.

Playing a clarinet tune, Melinda Schacher, does a wonderful job.

Doing a Spanish number, Drenisse Ceballos Ramos, and Amber Wilson do their best.

Just before school was ready to be let out for Thanksgiving vacation the rain began falling in buckets.

The school's roofs are tied to the walls with metal flashing that had peeled off in the high winds that hit the coast. With holes in the roofing the wood below was soaked with the continuous rain and soon worked its way into the fiberboard acoustical tiles. Quickly the tiles became saturated with water and fell, crushing the $20,000 grand piano and filling the band room with debris.

Throughout the day the rain continued to fall, not only filling the band room, but the storm drains outside the building. Running off the hillside past the school, a creek became swollen with rain water. The drain that helps divert the water around the building became blocked with limbs and mud, and soon a new problem was ready to erupt.

With nowhere to go but out onto the bus turnaround, the waters soon spilled over into the courtyard outside the school. Like a waterfall coming down the stairs, the water was rushing so quickly that the storm drains around the building couldn't handle the pressure.

Now the water was everywhere. It entered the hallway by the artroom, streamed past the counselors offices, seeped into the office and library, and made its way to the senior lawn area. In a matter of less than an hour the center courtyard was completely covered with dirty water and it hadn't stopped yet. The hallways outside the cafeteria and gym were both filled with water. This was a mess like no other.

After the drain was cleared, the water level started dropping. When it was finally under control, the clean up work began.

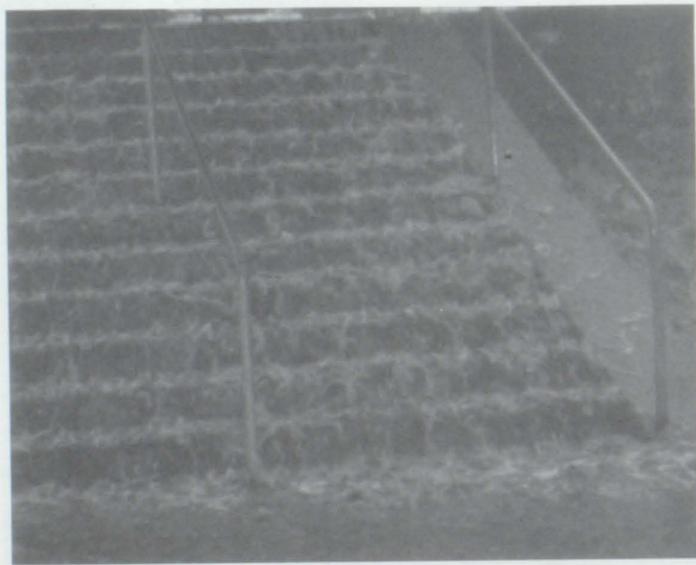

Armed with brooms, squeegees, and mops, many students made their way back to the school to give the janitorial staff a hand with the cleaning. Their efforts made a big difference in the overall damage control.

Seniors '99

The best piercing in the senior class, Ryan Hanson shows off his tongue ring.

Sittin' pretty, seniors Brie Reed-Harmel and Jessica Augustine flasing some beautiful smiles.

Lookin' cute--
Kevin Ortega

Gazing into each other's eyes,
Kevin Grogan and Besty Lattig-Elers look as if they're engaging to be married.

Since Tory Sage turned her senior picture in late, we wanted to squeeze it in somewhere.

Erin Niemi & Kristen White

Waiting to be interviewed for the Astoria Scholarships, Angie Keim, Ginny Jurgensen, Joel Jensen, Ben Thompson, Chris Holmstedt, and Laura Johnson, look surprisingly relaxed.

Ecstatic about personal finance class, Josh Whitmore holds Aaron Demasse. Sia Phillipakis, Emily Tisch, and Rachel Van Dusen get cozy for the picture.

Following the ceremony the seniors assembled together and had opportunities to have pictures taken and to visit with friends and family. Betsy Lattig-Ehlers and Frank Strong shared their friendship in a Kodak moment.

Lining up to enter the ceremony, Richard Gau stood out in the crowd with a gesture of we're number one!

Valedictorian Brie Reed-Harmel sorts her way through the crowd to find her walking partner.

Singing from the heart, Saryn Erickson performed a solo for the Port City Singers selection "Oh Happy Day."

Ginny Jurgensen was all smiles as she awaited word of scholarships that might come her way.

Receiving an award for athletic achievement from athletic director Mr. Goin, Scott Olson firmly and proudly takes his certificate.

The stage band provided music for the reception that followed the ceremony. The informal reception was a chance for the graduates to receive congratulations from classmates, friends, and family.

One last time Mrs. Hawley presented the winners of many scholarships before announcing her retirement.

All smiles as they are having their picture taken following the ceremony, Lauren Wecker and Courtney Berner had the moment preserved.

"Bob and Fudge"

Brian McDowell and Andrew Crichton

I know you're in heaven above,
And from all that way please hear my love...

You always had a huge smile on your face,
And that's my favorite memory that can never be erased.

You shined like the sun,
You brightened everyone's days.
I still can't believe you've gone so far away.

The hugs that you gave were so sweet and comforting,
They were sincere and actually meant something.

We were making plans, but never making a date,
It tears me up that now it's just too late.

Now I pray for you and the family you left behind
I know the pain will ease, it just takes time.

I wish I could take back certain times that we shared,
And instead of taking them for granted, told you how much I cared.

I loved so much the happiness of your soul,
That's how I know that I'll never let you go.

In our minds we think we're saying good-bye,
But, in our dreams and hearts you'll never die.

Within my heart you'll always stay,
Until we meet again one wonderful day.

What are you doing after graduation?

I'm going to... CALIFORNIA

A few short days following graduation, 42 ex-seniors loaded up and headed out for sunny Los Angeles. First stop on the whirlwind tour was an all-nighter at Disneyland. Joining other seniors from all around the country, the Astoria party animals had the run of the park until dawns early light. After a few short hours of sleep the tour took them to Newport Beach where they soaked in the sun, did a little body surfing, wave running, and rubbed elbows with the rich and famous. After a late night dance back at the hotel, the last stop before heading home was Universal Studios which features some of the most chilling and thrilling rides in the nation. It was an awesome trip that capped off a week that will never be forgotten.

Not until the year 1000 did Indian mathematician Sridhara recognize the importance of zero. Since we began counting the years with one, rather than zero, the new millennium officially starts in 2001, not 2000. Excitement is building for New Year's Eve 1999, but so is the fear that computers may recognize the year 2000 as 1900.
